Seek Funds For Frankfort Fire Department

For the convenience of persons living in outlying sections who may not be home when solicitors call for contributions to the Frankfort fire protection fund, Green Garden town hall and Ann Rutledge school will be open on certain dates so they can make their payments there.

The Green Garden town hall will be open next Monday, Nov. 25 from 7 to 9 p.m.

Ann Rutledge school will be open from 7 to 9 p.m. on both Monday and Tuesday evenings of next week, Nov. 25 and 26. The Rutledge school will also be open for the same purpose and at the same hours on Dec. 2 and 3 and Dec. 7 and 9.

These arrangements were made last Monday night at a meeting of the committee in Frankfort school that will be in charge of canvassing the area.

Will Contact Everyone

Eighteen men will canvass the area and it is their intention to make contact with every resident.

Several weeks ago the Frankfort fire department announced that for lack of adequate equipment and funds to purchase same no calls would be answered outside the village limits. An attempt had been made to form a fire protection district but the proposal had been voted down by people in the outlying areas.

As a result of this notice there was a public meeting at the Frankfort village hall, Nov. 4. It was brought out that approximately 300 homes in subdivisions were without fire protection.

Adult School At Lincoln-Way To Add More Subjects — If Wanted

A walk thru the halls of Lincoln-Way community high school on Tuesday or Thursday night will reveal a wide range of adult interests being served by evening program.

Of interest to both men and women alike is the investment course being taught by Maurice P. Angland. General economic conditions and their effect on the investment world are discussed. Mr. Angland is associated with Reynolds and Company of Chicago Heights and has a very broad and interesting background including university teaching and duty with the U. S. foreign service as well as investment work in this country. A similar course will be offered during the second semester.

Two clothing construction classes are being taught by Mrs. Mildred Foster, one for beginning students which meets on Tuesday, and one for advanced on Thursday. Each student works on a project of her own choice selected according to her ability and experience. Mrs. Foster gives individual help as needed and also presents demonstrations to the entire group. Clothing construction has always been one of the most popular courses at Lincoln-Way and one class will be offered again next semester.

Teach Welding

In the vocational agriculture and shop area sparks and flashes indicate the farm welding class at work under the direction of Joseph Kruzich, head of the Lincoln-Way industrial arts department. Both arc and oxy-acetylene welding equipment are used in this course.

At least one course will be taught in the vocational agriculture field during the second semester, the nature of the course depending upon the wishes of the registrants. Farm electricity has been a popular course in the past and will be listed as a possible course in the night school bulletin which will be issued before the second semester starts.

In the field of arts and crafts adult students are finding artistic expression in a number of media including sketching, copper enameling, ceramics and painting. Kenneth Kinney is the instructor in this class and is looking forward to the day when the art department will be settled again in the remodeled and enlarged studio which is a part of the wing of the building now under construction.

Refugee From Korea Speaks At L-W Assembly

Joe Anthony, a refugee from Korea, spoke at a recent Lincoln-Way assembly on "Determination Achieves Success". Joe, now 17 and a native of Korea, has been in the United States for five years and speaks English fluently.

Joe was brought to the United States by the Rev. Donald Werr, O.F.M., an air force chaplain in 1951, when befriended by the chaplain. Joe was wandering about the streets of Seoul, begging. Over 4,000 American G.I.s helped Joe to come over here and he remembers 43 of them in particular.

When asked his first impression of the United States, Joe said the first thing he noticed were the big highways and the large quantity of automobiles. In Korea there are some cars, but the horse provides most of the horsepower.

Joe appeared on the TV program "This Is Your Life" a short time ago. During the program, Joe was reunited with some of the friends who helped him to come over here. He is now writing an autobiography which is to be published within the next year. There is also a movie being produced of his life by Universal International called "The Boy From Korea." Starring in it is Ernest Borgnine as the Rev. Donald Werr.

At present Joe is a senior at Notre Dame high school, Quincy, Ill., and living with his legal guardian Father Donald Werr, head of the department of religion at Quincy college. His

The Mokena Lions launched their annual fruit cake sale today and with Thanksgiving and Christmas almost here—two holidays in which fruit cake is a must in many households—sales should be brisk.

Charles Swanberg, general chairman, has exhorted team captains and workers to use their most persuasive manners and talk in their contact with the public so that sales will be big.

The cakes are three pound affairs and those who have sampled them say they are good. Proceeds from the sale will be used for the purchase of playground equipment at Mokena Community park.

There are seven teams and the team that sells the most cakes will be the guests of the club at the January dinner meeting.

Announces Worldwide Bible Reading Program

Participation in the Worldwide Bible Reading program, sponsored by the American Bible Society, will begin on Thanksgiving, it was announced by the Rev. Paul W. Eldridge, pastor of the Community Bible church, at Tinley Park.

Members of his congregation, he stated, are circulating lists of scripture selections to be read daily from Thanksgiving thru Christmas. The reading lists are in bookmark form to be kept in the bible. Nearly 50 million copies of the Worldwide Bible Reading bookmarks have been published in some 50 countries all over the world.

This year the program highlights the more than 1,100 translations into which some book of the bible has been translated.

Other churches in the area will also distribute the bookmarks, and additional supplies will be made available to the public thru local libraries, leading stores and banks, the Rev. Mr. Eldridge stated. Chicago television and radio stations will join the nationwide broadcasting outlets in carrying one minute readings from each day's bible selections, the Rev. Mr. Eldridge added.

Ministers and laymen thru the country from many denominations assisted in the selections of readings. Each selection is without note or comment and is non-sectarian in character. The period of intensive reading includes observances of Universal Bible Sunday, December 8. Worldwide bible reading is sponsored by a distinguished committee of laymen, headed by President Eisenhower.

Mayors Discuss Locating Branch U. of I. In Area

Mayors of the southwest Cook county area attended a meeting in the Markham village hall last night for the purpose of inviting trustees of the University of Illinois to locate the Navy Pier branch of the University in this area.

A resolution pledging cooperation of the municipal fire and police departments, planning commissions, and any other assistance and cooperation villages and towns can give, was expected to be offered at the meeting.

The Regional Association of South Cook county, formed for the purpose of locating a proposed branch of the University in the area, predicts that there will be 25,000 students and $200,000,000 spent in building and equipment within 25 years, as the school becomes a four-year college.

Walter Wiles, of Flossmoor and State Senator Frank Ozinga were invited to address the group, beside other interested parties.

Close Navy Pier Branch
The Navy Pier branch of the university must move by 1962. Sites in Chicago have been eliminated as being too expensive, too restricted, too dirty, traffic and parking facilities are inadequate and because of the peak travel of students in same directions at the same time.

The trustees of the University of Illinois agree a suburban location is best. They chose Miller Meadows, but the forest preserve district would not agree to sell 150 to 300 acres at 22nd and the Des Plaines River. They may consider another site in that location.

Some of the reasons given by the Regional Association for the advisability of locating the proposed campus in this section are the development of St. Lawrence Seaway, with resulting increased industry, increased population, three expressways and all roads under construction.

WOULD ASSURE FIRE PROTECTION—These men are seeking contributions for the Frankfort fire department so that a new rig, especially constructed and equipped to fight fires in areas where there are no water mains, can be purchased. The rate set for homes is $8 and for farms, $18. These fees are payable annually. Persons who do not pay for protection will not get it, it was decided at a public meeting at Frankfort some 10 days ago. The six men here (l to r) are, Leonard Patterson, Casey Jenkot, Harold Scheer, Alvin Bruggeman, George Kaehler and A. J. Heisner. (Robert Porter photo).

Homer Church Now Has Pastor

After many years of being served by student pastors, the Homer church now has a full time resident pastor. He is the Rev. Roy Hanson who with his wife and baby daughter, Robin, are preparing to move into the parsonage about Dec. 1.

Both the Rev. Mr. Hanson and wife are natives of Nebraska, he coming from Clay Center, and her home town being Holdrege. He is a graduate of Wesleyan university, at Lincoln, Neb., where also Mrs. Hanson has had three years work. Mrs. Hanson is also interested in dramatics and hopes to be able to work along that line. She is also a singer of some ability.

The Rev. Mr. Hanson is now finishing his third year at the Chicago Theological seminary and has been a student associate pastor of the Bethany Union church in Chicago where he was in charge of the junior high group. He has had some success as a writer also, having written for religious magazines.

Mokena Youth Enlists in Navy Airman's School

George Arnold Butler, 18, who resides with his foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Casimier Wloch, RR No. 1 Wolf rd., Mokena has already begun to realize the value of a high school diploma. Without it he could not have qualified for the navy's high school graduate training program.

Enlisting last week as a high school airman recruit, Butler has been guaranteed assignment to the navy's basic airman school upon completion of recruit training. This school is designed to provide the knowledge and skills basic to all naval aviation ratings. It will also help him choose the particular phase of aviation duty for which he is best qualified.

Upon successful completion of this school he may be assigned to an aviation squadron for duty or if qualified for further training, to another service school for training in a specific aviation rating.

Since a high school diploma is the pass-key to most vocational doors, Butler, who graduated from Keokuk high school in 1957, agrees with the Navy's policy of urging all students to

Tart Cherry Sauce Tops Dessert Sweets

If we say "cherries" and you think of "pie", you'd score one-hundred percent. But we'd give you an extra gold star if you thought of pound cake, bavarian cream, custard or ice cream with cherry topping.

That gold star would be for knowing that canned tart red cherries blended into a smooth sauce can add the "spice and everything nice" to a humdrum week-night dessert for the family, or the spark of glamour to a snack for unexpected company.

A special favorite with company is both inexpensive and easy to make. Just layer the tart red cherry sauce between layers of thick vanilla pudding into tall parfait glasses. Top with more of the cherries.

As for the sauce, it's made by simply adding sugar and cornstarch to the cherry liquid from a pound can of water-pack cherries in a saucepan, heating, then combined with cherries and a spoonful of brandy flavoring.

The sauce can be stored in the refrigerator for weeks. If it clouds over, due to the thickening agent, simply heat and it's ready to serve, warm and clear.

Red Cherry Sauce

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1 can (1 pound) red sour pitted cherries (water pack) | 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon |
| 1/2 cup sugar | 1/4 cup water |
| 1 tablespoon cornstarch | 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind |
| 1/4 teaspoon salt | 1/2 teaspoon brandy flavoring, optional |
| | 1/4 teaspoon red food coloring |

Drain cherries, reserving liquid. Combine sugar, cornstarch, salt and cinnamon in a saucepan. Stir in cherry liquid and water. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil, boil 1/2 minute. Remove from heat; add grated lemon rind, brandy flavoring, red food coloring and cherries. Serve warm or cooled. 1 1/2 cups.

POLICE DO GOOD JOB

The Tinley Park police department, and Chief Harold C. Moore in particular, are to be commended upon their alertness, work and efficiency in solving a series of major crimes recently and apprehending the perpetrators.

It was Chief Moore and his men that rounded up the seven members of a burglary gang that committed numerous crimes in Cook and Will counties in the late summer. And it was Moore and his men whose investigation brought two other men to book last week who allegedly attempted to combine burglary and confidence game.

Most crooks select a line of crime and stick to it. Branching into another field is frequently disastrous and only the most arrogant of fools try to combine two distinct areas of action. It is true that murder sometimes precedes or follows robbery or vice versa but this is not surprising when one considers that while robbery and murder are two distinct crimes they have a common denominator—violence.

Burglary can contain violence and for a burglar to turn on man or forger—both of which are basically non-violent and foreign to his nature—is a departure from the normal.

It was the attempt of the two men arrested last week to become forgers and con men after a burglary that netted payroll checks that was their undoing. Chief Moore was watching and waiting. He had notified storekeepers in the area that attempts probably would be made to cash in on the stolen checks. Several were cashed. Police moved in, made the arrests and after getting denials of any knowledge of the affair the two suspects confessed to Chief Moore.

There was a lot of leg work as well as thought put on both cases, as is usually true in police work, and the Tinley department is to be congratulated.

And while on the subject of crimes and criminals the public should keep in mind that after police have gathered evidence, made arrests and perhaps taken statements or obtained confessions, their work is done. Police are not to be confused with prosecutors, judges or juries. Police have nothing to do with the final disposition of a case.

U. of I. Offers Information On Art Of Pruning

Trees, shrubs and roses may need pruning for a number of reasons, points out H. R. Kemmerer, University of Illinois landscape gardening specialist.

It may be necessary to remove dead, diseased or injured wood; to rejuvenate the plant tissues and control flower and fruit production; to remove branches that overlap each other; or to remove branches after transplanting to make up for loss of roots.

Kemmerer has written a new circular on pruning, just published by the University of Illinois College of Agriculture. This 15-page illustrated publication tells how to prune large trees, small flowering trees, flowering crabapples, shrubs, hedges and different types of roses.

Copies can be obtained from the office of any Illinois county farm adviser or from the College of Agriculture at Urbana.

Former Mokena And Orland Park Blacksmith Dies

Funeral services were held Monday for William Helenhouse, 85 years old, formerly of Mokena, who died Wednesday night of last week, Nov. 13, at his Chicago home, following a sudden heart attack.

Mr. Helenhouse, who only retired five years ago, practiced a trade that flourished in the horse and buggy era but is now practically limited to sharpening plow shares and cultivator shovels or fancy ironwork. He was a horseshoer and blacksmith.

Born at Lemont, the son of Peter and Mary Helenhouse, on March 8, 1872, he learned his trade at Lemont and then opened a shop at Orland Park. It was about 1910 that he came to Mokena and opened shop on the west side of Wolf road between Front st. and the Rock Island tracks which he operated 42 years. This summer the shop was torn down to make room for an automobile parking lot.

In 1952 Mr. Helenhouse retired and a year later moved to Chicago where he resided at 5215 W. Gladys. It was there that he died. He had been watching television and had gotten up from the davenport to cross the room when he collapsed and died.

Besides his widow, the former Stella Schultz to whom he was married in 1930, Mr. Helenhouse is survived by a son, Don, of Mokena, one sister, Mrs. Mamie Johnson, of Lemont, and three grandchildren, the youngest of whom was born last week and is named after him—William.

Removal was to the Gerhartz funeral home at Lemont from where services were held Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock to St. Alphonsus church at 10, when a solemn requiem high mass was sung. Interment was in the parish cemetery.

Tinley Park MYF Aids Orphanage

Young people of the Methodist Youth Fellowship of Tinley Park were busy last week-end going from house to house collecting canned goods to be given to Lake Bluff orphanage. This is an annual affair, and the second year Tinley MYF have participated. Over 500 cans of fruit and vegetables were collected.

The high point of this endeavor was last Sunday when youths from all MYF groups in Chicago southern district brought their contributions to the fall rally held at Trinity Methodist church in Chicago. Each group set up a display in connection with their contribution.

Tinley MYF received honorable mention for their six foot

The afternoon and evening meeting was well planned with a dramatic worship service entitled "Seek out the Lost." MYF workshops also were a part of the program. Guest speaker in the evening was Miss Lucile Brandau of Tinley Park, who spent the summer on a Methodist youth caravan in the Carolinas. Her interesting way of presenting the work of MYF and wonderful colored slides were received with enthusiasm by the several hundred young people present.

The young people adopted a Constitution, whose essence is "My Job in the MYF is to help youth grow in vital Christian faith and life." Fourteen Tinley MYF members with their counselor, Harry Schmidt and pastor, Rev. Kenneth Crandall attended.

Methodists, Catholics Continue To Set Pace In Church Cage Loop

The Methodists and Catholics keep pace in the Tinley Park Church league by respective wins over the Nazarenes and Teen club.

In the initial encounter of the game Monday evening the Methodist stayed off a last period rally by the smaller Nazarene quintet to win 38-32. A blistering first period spurt by St. George broke open a close game with the Teen club and bought victory number two, 32-23.

The Teens had gained a one point advantage at the third stanza buzzer, but Ron Gallina sort of took matters into his own hands for the Catholics final burst—he netted nine of the 16 points in the final period.

Tom Jeffers and Ken Webster provided a one, two punch that KO'ed the Nazarene with 13 and 11 markers, respectively. However, Gary Bressi of the Nazarenes was high for the game with 15.

Gallina finished the evening with 15 points for the Catholics and T. Mortenson garnered 11 for the losing Teen club.

Tom Jeffers held onto his lead in the individual scoring race, Monday evening, with 13 points. Gary Bressi moved into second place with the 15 he scored on Monday.

Allen Tells Of Sounds That Are No Longer Heard

By JOHN W. ALLEN
(Southern Illinois University)

This week, at long last, the writer comes face to face with that once far away specter of three score years and ten. Somehow he has no great regrets, for those years brought many delightful experiences and left with him literally millions of pleasant memories. This may not be strange, for, after all, time tends to make pleasant memories the abiding ones.

Except for comparatively short intervals of time spent in other of our states and in a few foreign countries, "It Happened in Southern Illinois." Perhaps he can not be blamed too much if he now pauses briefly to glance backward over the remembered years and to recall some of the changes they have wrought.

Tonight, except for an occasional slight chatter of a pipe somewhere about the water heater, the house is strangely quiet. Thus there is opportunity to fill the silence with remembered sounds, sounds that at one time were familiar but now are seldom or never heard. They naturally ceased with the activities that produced them. Now, if they should come trooping back, few could interpret them. Sounds Mean Something

Sounds connected with the woodlands offer example. Not many men presently could strike a tree with the poll of an axe and tell whether it is dry, has shakes in it or is hollow, and if hollow, the extent of the cavity. Neither could they listen to the pounding of a log maul and tell whether the one wielding it was driving a glut or an iron wedge. If an iron wedge were being driven, would it be into a saw gash to fell a tree or to ease the pinch on a saw being used to cut a log in two? Perhaps the distinctive sound heard would tell that a cut was being bolted for making clapboards. After all, the sounds given off from a standing section of a log were distinctive. A keen eared woodsman would recognize the difference.

Few persons now could judge the skill of the sawers on the sharpness of their saw by the overtones in the swishing sound made by the unseen operators. The experienced listener hearing these could estimate with reasonable accuracy the size of the timber being saved. This same listener also could tell the free splitting tree from the sounds made by the axman chopping it. The rhythm and sharpness of the chopper's strokes would tell whether he was skilled.

The distinctive bell-like ring of a broadaxe being swung overhead told that the unseen workman was hewing timbers or cross-ties. Likewise, the sounds made when juggling or scoring a log for hewing were distinctive ones. Not many now would recognize from sounds heard that a hand mallet was being used to drive a frow into the end of a broad bolt to make clapboards. Nor would they be able to judge good board timber by the crisp and snapping sound it made in splitting.

Why Not Record Them
Splitting of fence rails, pickets for a fence, tobacco sticks, plaster lath or splits for bottom-ning chairs each yielded its distinctive sounds.

Many other sounds were associated with the woodland. There was the shard, shearing sound made by the culter of the new-ground plow as it tore through the smaller roots of the newly cleared land or rode over larger ones. There was the snapping crackling sound of burning brush that sometimes furnished clue to the kind being burned.

In addition to the vanished sounds associated with woodland, there were many that came from other sources. No longer does one hear the distinctive knock of the heavily laden wagon nor the rattle of the spokes of worn buggy wheels—the whining of the wool wheel with its rising and falling pitch is only a memory. Likewise, the creak and thump of the loom, the splashing and rattle of the churn dasher, the gentle ripping sound of hand cords and the pre-breakfast grinding of the coffee mill.

Why doesn't someone take a good tape recorder, the re-create a host of such sounds as are seldom heard now and preserve them. They were a very real part of the environment in which people of yesterday lived.

Perhaps all this started because the upstairs niche in which I sometimes work on Southern's campus look directly into dense and unspoiled Thompson's Wood.

Roman Catholic Parishes Seek Clothing For Needy of The World

Closely following the anniversary of the tragic Hungarian uprising, Rt. Rev. Msgr. M. J. Butala announced that "Operation Clothes Closet," the ninth annual Catholic bishops' Thanks giving clothing appeal, to be conducted in the 16,200 parishes thruout the nation from Nov. 24 to 30, must approach the record breaking collection of last year. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. M. J. Butala, pastor of St. Joseph's church, Joliet, reported that the vast Catholic Relief Services' warehouses are now virtually bare—stripped of the 16,592,833 pounds of clothing, shoes, and blankets (valued at $23,603,666) contributed a year ago.

On Dec. 10, the first shipment of the collection, $625,000 worth went to Austria to clothe the ragged freedom fighters and other refugees that were streaming out of Budapest by the thousands. And the past Sept. 5, the last of these garments and shoes and blankets—$363,187 worth, was dispatched to Poland. This clothing together with $70,000 worth of medical supplies flown in earlier to Polish Cardinal Stefan Wyszynski, constituted the first relief shipment to this unhappy country since 1950.

In all, a total of 152,558 bales, boxes and bags of clothing and shoes was shipped to 34 countries around the globe. As in the past, shipments for the Orient were processed at the depots of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul in Seattle, San Francisco and Los Angeles, while trans-

Msgr. Butala calls on the people of the Joliet Diocese to help those in desperate need thruout the world.

In most every home in this favored land, be pointed out, there are serviceable clothes and shoes which will never be worn again and taking up good closet space. Stowed away in linen closets are thousands of worn sheets and blankets that are being kept for no good reason. Men and women of good will surely will want to go through their closets at Thanksgiving time, cull out the usable things they do not need and leave them at any local Catholic Church. Msgr. Butala said, and such action remind us of things we have to be thankful for.

This week many local residents will be receiving the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society's traditional little red stocking, an appeal for funds to help hundreds of dependent and neglected children in Illinois. Contributions to the 74th annual Christmas Stocking Fund will help to pay for the youngsters' Christmas toys and their year-round care in foster homes.

Washington Snapshots

The Shadow of Sputnik

The shadow of Sputnik is certain to hover over practically every Washington development for the foreseeable future.

Well-informed persons in the nation's capital hope, however, that the situation will be considered realistically.

They applaud President Eisenhower's refusal to accept the many "panic" suggestions that were forthcoming just as soon as Sputnik's "beep-beep" became audible throughout the world.

Some of these suggestions would have thrown wide open the doors of the Treasury to meet limitless spending demands regardless of need or the ability to use additional funds in any worthwhile way.

President Eisenhower calmly explained that already the government was spending $5,200,000,000 a year on armed military research and development alone.

Now that, he added, isn't any weak, pusillanimous effort; that is a lot of money.

Plan Christmas Parade At Joliet —7 p.m. Nov. 26

The theme, "A Child's Dream of Christ in Christmas" is slated to dominate the forthcoming Joliet community Christmas parade scheduled for the evening of Tuesday, Nov. 26 at 7 p.m. This year's parade, sponsored by the Joliet Association of Commerce, will have more than 40 floats, as well as six marching bands.

Immediately following the Parade, all floats will be lined up on a parking lot at Cass and Joliet streets for viewing by anticipated crowds.

A community sing will be held on the lot. It is anticipated that some 5,000 persons will participate, the committee said.

Other musical arrangements include smaller groups caroling at strategic spots along the Parade route during the hour preceding the parade. Chimes will ring out from all corners of the city from 6 p.m. until parade time at 7 p.m.

Lighting the way for the parade will be the 386 giant Christmas candle street decorations which will be officially turned on Tuesday, Nov. 26. Although all downtown stores will be closed, they have been asked to turn off all signs, and leave on only their window lights, creating an effective scene in combination with the street light decorations.

A COMPLETE CONFESSION was obtained by Tinley Park Police Chief, Harold C. Moore, after many hours of interrogation, from Walter Bethman (left) and his partner, Richard Knade, both of Midlothian. The police chief is shown questioning the youths who finally admitted the part each played in the burglary of Oaktron Electric Co., Tinley, at 1 a.m. Nov. 8. Knade entered the Oaktron building, stealing 91 payroll checks, amounting to $3,831, while Bethman waited outside in a car, according to their statement to police. The youths cashed several checks before being picked up on suspicion by the police chief. Attempting to cash a check, using a traffic ticket as identification, resulted in their capture by local police. (Paul Leland photo).

MASTER CRAFTSMAN

It is always a pleasure to watch a master craftsman at work, for the proof of his craftsmanship is the surface ease with which he performs his art.

Last Friday night at the main school about 50 of us were privileged to watch such a craftsman. And his art was all in our favor...it was a performance not for art's sake alone, but for the sake of every person in the room. I am speaking of Mr. Beam, our president of the school board.

The vigorous, brisk pace of that meeting inspired continuous contributions from all present. I believe that every person present spoke at least once...always properly recognized and in good order. Every thought was welcomed, and constructive criticism "poured like wine". Genuine concern for our collective future prompted remarks as guided by the artful hand of the president of the meeting.

Mr. Beam called the meeting to order at 7:30 and the air was charged with optimistic force from that moment until past 10 o'clock. I felt it could have continued further, but again the master craftsman ended it while it was still in an upswing. He kept written notes on each and every question proposed to him for study, and left in the audience the assurance none were overlooked.

We are fortunate indeed to have such a man occupy one of our first positions of honor and power. If all our future posts of leadership can be filled by men and women as competent as Mr. Beam, we shall find ourselves to be far above the average community.

MEET YOUR NEIGHBORS

A pretty young girl named Darlene Berdan has been like an angel of mercy to the parents of young children who attend church services and church events. She seems to have a natural touch for soothing and entertaining young children.

The night of the church's Fellowship dinner, Darlene was the only teen-ager present, but did not waste time being lonely. Not a bit! She helped the ladies serving at the dinner table and then ran over to the movie-viewing room and helped quiet the very young children in there. During morning services on Sunday, she assists Mrs. Mary Sonne with the nursery care.

Mr. Tobin, our witty, brisk school principal, told me: "My full name is, Andrew Jackson Tobin...for that I have to blame my father, who on one of his three visits to the United States (one of which was to escape being a political prisoner of the English) was told that said Andrew Jackson soundly beat the English at New Orleans.

Not many of us can boast such colorful reasons for our naming.

Young Richard Murray came past on his bicycle last Saturday morning to see about starting to earn money by selling subscriptions to this paper. If you know anyone who wants to buy one, have them ask for Master Murray when they call Milly Berdan, SY 8-6983. She handles the business books just now.

Mrs. Chloe White is a spirited conversationalist. She bemoans the fact her name is exactly the same as that crazy song done by Spike Jones. And the funniest thing is, she works for an airline ticket office! She is constantly answering the phone and having to give her own name for business identification.

She told me an exciting idea for decorating her block in the village. Her neighbors are considering sharing the cost of having one street-lamp installed in the center of their "private" circle just off of Baker st. (They have one of the set-back loops which are so attractive from down the road.) If the neighbors do install such a lamp, they would decorate it for holidays, etc. Certainly would be fun...for everybody.

SMILE PRETTY NOW

This newspaper will be happy to print photographs of special events whenever we contribute them. Their only warning is: Do try to keep them distinct enough for good reproduction.

If you have photographs of parties in your home, celebrations, meetings, or gatherings of friends for special occasions, bring them to my house and I will try to get them printed for you.

FIND MY TENT

Well, it's not really a tent; it's a redwood house. I live at 17925 S. John ave. My house faces directly into 179th st. In fact, you can practically drive right into my driveway from 179th. Reports and news can always be left in my mailbox. Or you may call me at SY 8-5669.

THE FUTURE OF OUR SCHOOL

The official monthly report of the School Board was given last Friday night to a room of about 50 citizens. First, reports of the past month's work on school problems was given by the three-man board, and then an open question period was held. All citizens questions were fully recorded for investigation during the following month.

RULES FOR PUPILS

Andrew J. Tobin, our school principal, read a concise and beautifully worded list of new RULES AND REGULATIONS for Coopers Grove school. These were divided into two sections.

The first was for pupils such general rules as: First, Health examinations must be recorded; Second, Doctor's written excuses for 4 days' absence; Third, Clothing must be marked for identification; Fourth, Lunch must be eaten in the home unless pupil comes by bus; Fifth, Report cards will be issued every 10 weeks, and Sixth, Pupils considered impossible to discipline can be expelled by the school administration.

These were all open to much debate by parents present. Such points as: Doctors are terribly difficult to get out here on house calls, and how can younger children wade the winter drifts from the edges of the village during their lunch hours?

RULES FOR TEACHERS

Mr. Tobin's second section for teachers contained such items as: First, Present 15 minutes before class begins; Second, Responsible for school room equipment; Third, Physical punishment is discouraged, though allowed under the law; fourth, Health and job records required; Fifth, Orders cannot be given in politics nor religion.

During the open question period, countless new subjects were given to the board by those present. Oak Lawn's 10 pm. curfew was mentioned. Methods of stopping school vandalism. (18 windows now stand broken in the three upper grade buildings) An honor monitor system for using older pupils to supervise play and lunchtime of younger pupils was suggested.

TEACHERS LUNCH HOUR

This was a problem that received much thought by all present. It was agreed that some relief should be found, especially in the three temporary buildings in the heart of the village. Teachers have been responsible for continuous discipline of over 30 children from 9:15 a.m. until around 4:30 pm.

This was understood to be far too heavy a burden on the teachers and many suggestions were offered. Mr. Beam recorded all ideas and the board hopes to solve this problem in the coming month. Monitors, room mothers, men with night jobs, or doubling up the bus students into one building only for lunch—all these are to be considered as solutions.

Mr. Tobin pointed out that it is for our own security that we try to be fair to our teachers under their present difficult working conditions. He reminded us that a teacher may leave his job at any time he wishes—and once a teacher has voluntarily quit a school, that school gains a bad reputation. Then, replacing lost teachers becomes most difficult.

SAVINGS ON OUR BUS

A special accountant's report was given in which all available statistics had been evaluated to weigh ownership of our own school bus against the present monthly service bus. This report was extended over the next ten years time—and proved we could save $16,000 by running our own bus system.

MONTHLY STATE AID

Every absence in our classrooms reduces the amount of State Aid our school receives now for its continuance. We now receive an average of $1,000 monthly to supplement our school funds. This is based solely on daily attendance.

CONTRIBUTION

$738.53 will soon be given to the school board by the many people who worked so hard for the Hard Times dance and ticket sales for prizes at that dance. This money is to be used to benefit the school in any manner the school board so directs.

ELECTIONS IN APRIL

The current 3-man board will be replaced by a full 7-man board of education next April. Those seven men will be elected for terms of varying length, drawn by lots after the popular election.

All those interested in the future of our school are asked to attend each and every open school board meeting from now until election time and gain some understanding about running a school system such as ours.

When you must call for police help, remember:

SY 8-3181

This is the number of Cook County Sheriff highway police, district 3, at 1154 Ridge road, in Homewood. I've heard various personal reports that they send patrol cars out from "instantly" to "about 20 minutes." At least they are on call and respond as quickly as possible at the time of the call.

It would be wise for every homeowner to post this number on the wall above the telephone. Then, when speeding, wild dogs house breakers, or vandalism are witnessed—call them!

I hate to announce that a second burglary has taken place! This was at a dark house with an unlocked door. (A word to the wise should be sufficient.)

SMILING WAITRESSES

At the Christian Fellowship dinner a week ago, the delicious food was served by a committee of ladies who spooned and dipped with grace. Mrs. Eleanor Otto was the chairman for the entire dinner. Mrs. Elaine Timmermann, Mrs. Milly Berdan, and Mrs. Dorothy Ebert were on the committee.

A special surprise was the amazing scene of purity and orderliness which greeted visitors at the dinner. All school tables had been united in long table-rows and covered with reams of shiny white paper. It gave an effect of a very pleasant private dining room in an exclusive restaurant. The ladies certainly performed miracles.

In Memoriam

ROEMER, Edward W.—In loving memory of our husband and father who passed away one year ago Nov. 20, 1956.

Somewhere back of the sunset Where loveliness never dies, He lies in a land of glory Under the sunset skies.

And we who have known and loved him

Whose passing has brought us tears,

Will cherish his memory always

To brighten the drifting years.

CORNERSTONE CEREMONIES—took place last Sunday afternoon at the Reformed church, 16530 Ridgeland ave., in the Kimberly Heights section of Tinley Park. At the left is the pastor, the Rev. Roderic Jackson. The other man is Fred Henke, chairman of the building committee. Construction was begun early in October and the builders expect to have it ready for occupancy in January. The building will cost approximately $40,000 and the church proper will seat 200. There will also be Sunday school rooms, a kitchen and a pastor's study. The church was organized at Tinley Park Oct. 26, 1956 and has been conducting its services in the Municipal building. It has 30 families which make a membership of 120. (Robert Porter photo)

New Boom Coming, Says Kiplinger No Deep Slump or Depression

Current fears of a serious recession are not warranted, according to a special report by the Kiplinger organization recently released. A period of "normal progress" for the next five or six years is predicted by the Washington business reporting firm.

Any letdown or slump will be temporary, the editors say a pause—not a deep slump or depression.

Then, in five or six years, a new boom will set off "the greatest era of economic growth this country has ever known." Underlying the new boom are these facts:

Population: Extra high birth rates in the '40's and '50's will produce a population bulge in the '60's and '70's of young men and women marrying or ready to marry. Marriages makes homes, homes make business.

New products, new ideas: Technical, scientific and mechanical developments of the past few years are being rushed into use, producing a crop of new products.

Government policy: Both parties and all political groups are bullish, committed to full employment and an economy going at full speed, with the government an active partner.

More Inflation
The bad news is that more inflation will accompany the boom, according to the Kiplinger report. Prices will go higher—in ten years, 15 per cent higher, in 25 years, 50 per cent higher.

Behind the inflation are three major forces, pushing hard: Wages rising faster than productivity: A continuous push for higher wages can be expected, causing high prices and then demand for more wages to cover increased living costs.

World-wide pressure on prices: Demand for goods everywhere else in the world is greater than the supply. Prices are going up in all countries and they affect our economy, too.

Government spending: No matter what men of either party say the pressure is to expand public spending, so deficits may plague budgets in the future. Public pressure continues to be for big spending, regardless of inflation that comes in its wake.

Not all states and localities will share equally in the growth of the next 25 years, the Kiplinger report points out. The biggest single area of growth is the "heartland" area from Pittsburgh to Chicago.

Next in growth comes the Atlantic seaboard, New York to Baltimore. Then spectacular California, heading toward beating New York as number one state in population. Then Texas, then Florida, which is gaining at the highest rate of any large state.

Business Gains Spotlights
The new boom of the '60's will bring an upsurge in housing, accompanied by further suburban growth, increased land prices, more luxury homes.

New businesses will increase. All the talk about small business being doomed is "a lot of bunk", according to the editors.

Service lines will grow fast; retailing, repair, maintenance, banking, real estate, insurance, as well as recreation, travel and vacation-connected business.

No Tax Relief - Incomes Up
Along with the boom and inflation will come a steep rise in incomes, until family spending doubles its present level in the '80's. Even with discounts for inflation and higher prices, there will be more family spending.

Lower income groups will decrease in number, as families move up the income-scale—more middle and upper income families. And there will be increasing numbers of rich families of varying grades, a continuation of past and present trends.

Taxes will not decrease. The federal taxes may be cut, state and local taxes will rise at a faster rate, so total tax bill will stay high.

No Big War
Total defense spending will gradually decline, perhaps to 30 billions instead of present 40 billions. First small steps toward disarmament may take five to 10 years, but total disarmament is not in the picture.

As for war, the Kiplinger organization forecasts there will be no big war. Small wars may threaten and come and go, but no world wide conflict is likely, the report concludes.

Dairy Group "Sells" Farm To City Cousins

The theme of Farm-City Week—better understanding between rural and urban groups—is a familiar one to a special group of Illinois farmers.

These farmers, who make much of their living milking cows, have taken it upon themselves to develop an understanding of what has been a city occupation—advertising and sales promotion.

Thru their own organization, the American Dairy Association, the Illinois dairy farmers and dairy farmers from all parts of the country have developed an advertising and promotion program which brings the story of the healthful and refreshing values of dairy products to millions of persons each year.

Big Sales Organization

As part time advertising executives, the dairy farmers control an organization which has become one of the leaders in the complex world of advertising, sales promotion, merchandising and public relations.

American Dairy Association advertisements telling the virtues of milk, butter, cheese, ice cream, evaporated milk, nonfat dry milk and other dairy products are seen and heard with convincing frequency in newspapers, radio, television and magazines. Each advertisement has the goal: to expand the market for dairy products. Medical authorities generally agree that increased consumption of dairy products would result in a healthier people. More dairy products consumed would naturally benefit the dairy farmers.

In Illinois, American Dairy Association activities are directed by American Dairy Association of Illinois, at Joliet managed by Milton C. Geuther, of Mokena.

Dairy farmers who head the state organization are: Elwood Howell, R. 4, McHenry, Howard C. Klett, R. 3, Joliet.

Geuther pointed out that in Illinois, the dairy farmers advertising and sales promotion organization has over 17,000 dairy farmer members. In the "June is Dairy Month" promotion alone more than 151,000 pieces of material to help promote the sale of dairy products were used.

In addition to the state office, the dairy farmers also employ a staff of trained advertising, merchandising, research and public relations experts at the national headquarters in Chicago. They also employ an advertising agency which is responsible for creating and placing the advertisements and commercials.

Even though these city employees handle the details of the advertising and promotion work, the policies and sales goals are determined by the nation's dairy farmers, who send elected representatives to twice-yearly meetings at which these policies and goals are formulated.

Thru their efforts to inform urban consumers of the virtues of farm products, the dairy farmer members of the American Dairy Association are making a continuing contribution to better understanding between the rural and urban parts of our society.

ADULT SCHOOL—

A similar course will be offered next semester. The personalized instruction will make it possible for members now enrolled to continue and new members to join the class. In addition to those adults who want to "just dabble" this course should be of special interest to people who use art in their work and to elementary teachers, Bible school instructors, scout leaders, and others working in the field of art and handicraft.

The largest class in the night program is that in typing, taught by Miss Gentry. This course has given beginners and those who want a brush-up or refresher the opportunity to use both manual and electric typewriters.

There has been quite a bit of interest expressed in a short-hand class which will be offered next semester if enough students sign up for the course. A minimum of eight students is necessary for a class.

It is the policy of the board of education to serve the interests of the community as fully as possible thru the adult program, it was pointed out. Persons who have suggestions for courses are asked to contact Ralph Wright who is the director of the adult education program. An attempt will be made to offer any course in which eight or more people are interested.

James Christensen Father of Mokena Woman, Dies in West

James Christensen, 72, father of Mrs. Clifford (Florence) Pommering of Mokena, died in his home in Springville, California, Thursday, Nov. 14 of a heart attack.

He was born in Chicago Nov. 29, 1882 where he was married and when he was employed for many years by the General Tire company.

Beside his wife, Martha, and Mrs. Pommering, he is survived by another daughter, Mrs. Lucille Ruane, Joliet and a son James of Chicago Ridge, four grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

The body was sent to Berwyn, where funeral services will be held Friday, Nov. 22, with burial in Mt. Greenwood cemetery.

His grandson, Airman 2-C and Mrs. Ronald Heibrunn arrived in Mokena Tuesday from his station at Glasgow, Mont., to attend the funeral. They will remain here until Dec. 9 with his mother, Mrs. Pommering.

Mokena Family To Show Cattle At International

The John Matasovic family of Mokena will have nine Herefords at the International livestock show at Chicago, Nov. 29-Dec. 7, a string of six in the breeding cattle classes of the show, while the daughters of the household, Marilyn and Linda will each show a heifer calf and Marilyn will also have a steer in the fat cattle division.

Other entries from Will county will include a Hereford in the open class steers shown by Bill Krapp, of Monee; Ronald Deininger, Joliet, one Shorthorn; Glen Kietzman, Joliet, one Short horn; Don Cagwin, Lockport, three Shorthorns; and Clarence Cann and Son, Peotone, three Shorthorns.

Meat's the Thing

In the Junior Livestock feeding contest the following youngsters will compete: Don Cogwin, one Hereford and Angus each; Michael and Norma Krumwiede Peotone, one Angus steer each; Robert and Nick Welter, Lockport, one Angus; Merle J. Lauterbach, Plainfield, an Angus, Hereford and Shorthorn each; and Irwin Termuende, Lockport, one Shorthorn.

Nine thrill-packed days will again feature grand championship judging of the world's finest breeding and fat cattle, sheep and swine in the show rings and stock yard pens. The International carcass contest will again spotlight high meat yields in livestock.

The 35th annual International Grain and Hay Show and the International Wool Show will have bright new quarters in Donovan Hall, newest addition to the Amphitheatre.

Horses to Perform

Arthur Godfrey of radio and television fame will perform at evening horse show performances and at one matinee on his gifted Arabian, as well as originate daily telecasts in the Amphitheatre. The International Horse show will have nine evening performances and six matinees. More than 1,500 outstanding 4H club youngsters attending the National 4H club Congress will parade in the arena Wednesday night.

Colorful auction sales climax International week. Sales of both fat and purebred breeding animals annually total around $2,000,000. Meat animals are sold to quality stores and restaurants. The International label has come to mean the best in meats to consumers everywhere.

Teens to Make MD Fund Drive

For the first time since its beginning the Muscular Dystrophy fund campaign in Mokena will be conducted on a house to house basis with teen agers doing the canvassing, it was announced yesterday by Mrs. Grace Alexander, chairman.

The canvass is to be made late Saturday afternoon and early evening. Those in charge expect that it can be completed in two hours. In that time the canvassers expect to have called at every home in the Mokena area.

The drive is scheduled to begin at 4:45. Mrs. Alexander said, and should be finished before 7 o'clock.

"We hope everyone will be waiting for their doorbell to ring," Mrs. Alexander said, "and will contribute generously to this fund which is to be used strictly for furthering research on this dread disease."

Mrs. Alexander added that they still need three more adult drivers and four more teen age girls or boys. The teen ager solicitors will be accompanied by a car and an adult driver. Any one who is willing to aid the campaign is asked by Mrs. Alexander to call her at Mokena 2651.

The germ that causes tuberculosis, the tubercle bacillus, was first identified in 1882 by a German scientist, Robert Koch.

Firemen Offer Stand-by Service For Lot-Burning

Residents in the Mokena area who want to burn off dead grass, weeds and leaves and at the same time guard against the fire spreading may call Carrol G. Roberts, assistant chief of the Mokena volunteer fire department, and he will arrange for a fireman to stand by while the burning off is in progress.

Persons are asked NOT to call the fire department for this service but to make such calls direct to Assistant Chief Roberts. His telephone number is Mokena 2593.

SEEK FUNDS—

To remedy the situation it was agreed to canvass the outlying sections and solicit annual contributions.

These were fixed at $8 for homes and $18 for farms.

Need New Truck

The money will be used to purchase a special truck, built and equipped to fight fires in the country. The equipment the department has now is sufficient it was said, to protect the village of Frankfort, where there is a public water system, but it will not meet the needs of the rural areas.

The fire protection district proposal cannot be submitted to the voters again for two years so that if the people are to have protection now they will have to contribute to the fund now in the process of being collected, it was pointed out.

A list of the contributors will be placed on file with the fire department and no calls will be made to homes or farms not on the list, it was agreed at the public meeting Nov. 4.

The contributions made now will serve as dues for a year, the year to begin Jan. 1. In the meantime persons who sign up now will have protection from the date of signing, it was explained by those in charge.

Gold To Be Color Theme For 50th Automobile Show At Chicago

Gold trimmed with varying shades of white will be the dominant color theme of the decor for the Golden Jubilee fiftieth Chicago automobile show at the International Amphitheatre Jan. 4 thru 12.

Announcement of details of the decor was made Saturday by Don C. Mullery, president of the sponsoring Chicago Automobile Trade Association; C. J. McCorkle, chairman of the executive show committee; and Edward L. Cleary, show manager and CATA executive vice president.

The George P. Johnson Company of Detroit conceived and designed the decorating plans. With the approval of the show committee, its staff has started to cut the fabric patterns and build the supports required to transform the 500,000 square feet of exhibit space into the most elaborate, costliest setting in the history of the Chicago automobile show.

Cleary said the general theme will be "Climbing Golden Stairs" in recognition of the Chicago show having reached the fiftieth or golden level, in a series of annual presentations that began back in 1901 and was interrupted only from 1941-1949 because of World War 2.

Plenty Queens

He added: "Every area of the amphitheatre will figure in the decor this year. Gold lame and moonbeam satin trim will be the main color combination in draping the columns and providing the wall coverings. White drapery cloth will mask the half a million square feet of ceiling with additional contrast in trim by creme rayon for the sidewalls."

Special attention is given the central arena where the "Motor-evee of 1958" featuring the pageant of new cars and community beauty queens, will be presented twice daily on a stage described as the largest in the world.

Cleary said: "As in the past, ramps on each side of the stage will lead up to a giant turntable on which each model of a United States passenger car make accompanied by a Chicago neighborhood or suburban beauty queen, will be spotlighted."

"In center stage will be a golden staircase, twenty steps high, leading up to the orchestra shell. Golden webbing, designed to suggest the years ahead, will begin at the top step and surround the orchestra shell as it carries on up to the ceiling.

"Individual steps will be covered by gold bronze and the risers with gold glitter. Flanking the golden staircase will be white columns 75 feet high and 12 feet in diameter, illuminated from within. The poscenum side drapes of gold velvet will cover an area 200 feet wide."

And Plenty Cars

Johnson Company officials said the Chicago automobile show project would be the most pretentious ever assigned to them. They pointed out that the gold lame would be sufficient to make 2,000 glamorous evening gowns—the moonbeam satin, 7,000 tea gowns—the white drapery cloth for the ceilings enough to make spreads for more than 10,000 beds. More than 4,000 linear feet of creme rayon will cover the sidewalls.

American passenger car makes to be shown are Ambassador, Buick, Cadillac, Chevrolet, Chrysler, Continental, DeSoto, Dodge Edsel, Ford, Imperial, Lincoln, Mercury, Oldsmobile, Packard, Plymouth, Pontiac, Rambler and Studebaker.

Truck makes are Chevrolet, Dodge, Ford, GMC, Hendrickson, International Harvester, Mack, Studebaker and Willys.

Import cars include Arnolt-Bristol, Austin, Austin-Healey, Berkeley, Biancha, Bristol, Ferrari, Ford International, Citroen, DKW, Goggomobil, Hillman, Isotta, Jaguar, Mercedes-Benz, Metropolitan, Morris Minor, MG, Opel, Panhard, Peugeot, Renault, Skoda, Simca, Sunbeam, Triumph, and Vauxhall.

Aid Available For Students At Illinois State U.

More than 3,500 scholarships are available to students at the University of Illinois. C. W. Sanford, dean of admissions, said recently. This includes 843 cash scholarships and 2,697 tuition scholarships.

Another 4,500 students have grants thru the veterans administration, making a total of 8,090 scholarships and grants this semester.

Dean Sanford said another 2,000 scholarships are needed to continue their education.

Also more than one-third of nearly 19,000 University of Illinois students contribute to their support thru part-time employment, according to Gerald W.

Peck, assistant dean of students said.

Since Sept. 1, the U.I. student employment office has conducted 2,508 interviews for campus jobs. The total volume is lower than during the same period last year although more jobs are available.

Available jobs this fall included 1,700 to 1,800 part time positions with the University, 2,000 meal jobs on campus, and about 2,500 odd jobs. They average about 15 hours a week and wage scales run between 90 cents to $1.50 per hour.

A commercially available atomic-powered battery no bigger than a cough drop is predicted within three years. The battery, producing about 20 microwatts of electricity, could be used in transistorized radios, hearing aids, and even wristwatches.

TOO LITTLE, TOO LATE is the way we Dodge dealers feel about competitors' efforts to match the Swept-Wing 58. They lowered the roof some, but left the sides high. Their windshields got smaller while ours got bigger. So much for styling. Then, for another important comparison, take ride. Here's Dodge with Torsion-Aire suspension that just about everybody admits is the greatest advance in sway-free, dip-free, silent going that any car offers. So what do these other cars do? They borrow an air suspension system that's been used in buses for two years! (Costing well over $100.00 extra.) And most of 'em still don't have push-button driving — much less Dodge TorqueFlite — the proven automatic transmission. If you're a little disappointed in the '58 version of your car, come on in and see our Swept-Wing 58. The others are catching on—but they can't catch up.

The American Way Thanksgiving 1823-1957

By WILLIS E. STONE

Editor's Note: Willis E. Stone is author of the "Proposed 23rd Amendment" and President of the American Progress Foundation, Los Angeles.)

THANKSGIVING DAY is unique and strictly American. No holiday quite like it is to be found in any other part of the world.

It is a religious holiday, yet it is not of any church, creed, sect or denomination. It is a day when, by mutual desire, a whole people lift their hearts in thanksgiving to their God for all the blessings of freedom.

It is a national holiday, yet it commemorates not battle, celebrates no victory, nor does it honor any national hero.

The first Thanksgiving Day of record was proclaimed by Governor Bradford in November, 1621, to commemorate the first anniversary of the arrival of the Pilgrims in the new world. The communal system under which they lived had provided barely enough for survival, yet they set aside a day of Thanksgiving.

It was the third Thanksgiving Day—proclaimed in November of 1623—that the true spirit and meaning of Thanksgiving as we know it, was born.

The communal society, where all things, including both land and produce, were owned by the community, had been eliminated. In this year of 1623 the barren wilderness began to bloom with the incentives of private property and private enterprise. Each family held its OWN land, to develop as the family might decide.

So spectacularly successful had been this revolutionary transition from the old world tyranny of "common ownership" to the principle of "private enterprise" that Captain John Smith wrote of the miracle in these words:

"When our people were fed out of the common store and laboured jointly together, glad was he who could slip from his labour, or slumber over his tasks. The most honest among them would hardly take so much true pain in a week as now for themselves they will do in a day. Neither cared they for the increase, presuming that howsoever the harvest prospered, the general store must maintain them, so that we reaped not so much corn from the labours of thirty as now three or four do provide for themselves."

This spectacular contrast between the communal and the individual systems is an enduring yardstick. It applies to this very day. There can be no other explanation of the fact that the American people—7 per cent of the world's land area—enjoy more than 50 per cent of the consumable goods of the world. Private enterprise DOES out-produce every other economic system ever devised—and it is this fact and the revelation which it made possible to us, that we celebrate this day of Thanksgiving to God.

Remembrance, however, is not enough. What are we doing with our heritage? Are we preserving our institutions of liberty? Do we protect our traditional private enterprise system from alien encroachment?

Unfortunately, the false doctrines of "common ownership" have made enormous inroads upon our way of life, and the federal agencies have taken from the private domain more than 40 per cent of the land area and 20 per cent of the industrial capacity of the nation. More than one-half the total receipts of the federal government are now used directly or indirectly to pay the losses and hidden costs of these communal empires.

As we celebrate this Thanksgiving Day, let us give a thought to the limitless abundance which can be ours if we but keep faith with the Founding Fathers and constitutionally restore the private enterprise system.

In 1623 it was the cause of joyous Thanksgiving that the communal system had been destroyed in Town Meeting and the private enterprise system substituted.

In 1957 we have cause for Thanksgiving for we, in our time, have the power to reject the communal doctrines and provide constitutional protection to the principles of private enterprise. We can do this by getting action on the "Proposed 23rd Amendment" pending in Congress as H. J. Res. 355. It provides that:

"Sec. 1. The Government of the United States shall not engage in any business, professional, commercial, financial or industrial enterprise except as specified in the Constitution."

"Sec. 4. Congress shall not levy taxes on personal incomes, inheritances and/or gifts."

Youngsters To Vie For Honors At Stock Show

Vying for top honors in competition with grown-ups, farm boys and girls will again play an important part in the events of the International Live Stock Exposition, set for Nov. 29 thru Dec. 7 in the International Amphitheatre at the Chicago stock yards.

Youngsters have many times gone on from winning top places in junior competitions to such major show awards as the grand champion steer and the grand champion barrow. Grand champion steers have been shown by youngsters 13 times in the 57 years of the exposition.

The first two days of the 1957 show will be largely devoted to youth activities. On Friday, Nov. 29, state champion judging teams from 30 states will match their skill in judging cattle, sheep and swine in the national 4-H livestock judging contest. Next day students from agricultural colleges of over 40 states will take part in a similar contest.

Junior Showmen Compete

Big feature of the opening Saturday is the junior livestock feeding contest in which more than 300 farm boys and girls will exhibit some 500 head of cattle and hogs of their own raising. Top winners go on to compete in the open classes against adult showmen the following week.

This year a large number of entries by youngsters is reported in the carcass contest. The carcass classes determine yield and quality of meat in animals that are pre-judged on hoof, slaughtered and judged again. Increased interest in this contest and a spectacular auction sale of the champion carcasses are bringing out a record entry this year, the management informs.

The International Grain and Hay show will be housed in spacious new Donovan Hall—most recent addition to the International Amphitheatre. It includes competition for corn raised and exhibited by farm youths. Winner is named "Corn Prince" or "Princess".

4-H Youths Parade

A moving climax to youth activity at the International show is the 4-H club parade in the amphitheatre arena at the Wednesday evening horse show. More than 1,500 outstanding 4-H club youngsters from all the states and a number of foreign countries will jam the arena and fill the air with songs of their home states. The 4-H Congress is held in conjunction with the Exposition.

Arthur Godfrey, star of TV and radio, will appear with his trained Arabian horse at all evening horse shows during the 9-day event. The International Horse show, considered the country's greatest, is scheduled every evening and five afternoons from Nov. 29 to Dec. 7.

Drainage Dist. 2 Of Rich Seeks Funds To Make Repairs

(CNS) Commissioners of the Town of Rich, Drainage District No. 2 have appealed to county court for a $2,000 assessment to cover the cost of repairing, maintaining and operating the districts drainage system.

Hearing on the petition will be conducted Nov. 29 by County Judge Otto Koerner.

As of October 28, the district had $101.60 on hand, the petition said, with no money having been collected nor any bonds or notes, outstanding as of the last annual financial report.

The petition filed by Attorney John Verklan said the district has one main open ditch, and two 15 inch tile lines, and one 24 inch tile line.

Commissioners Emil Harms, of Tinley Park, and Ernst Hoger and William Kampe, both of Matteson, asked court authority to level the assessment as the district does not have sufficient funds to operate the system for next year.

MAURICE P. ANGLAND

Those who call themselves realists rather than cynics, have been predicting for some time that the Federal Reserve would relax its "tight money" policy thru lowering of the rediscount rate to member banks. This rediscount rate is the interest rate charged commercial banks for their own borrowings from the Federal Reserve Bank in their particular districts. Banks must, of course, charge their own borrowers from two and a half to three and one half per cent more than they must pay in order to make a profit on the transactions.

In order to tighten the supply of money and credit to combat inflation, the Federal Reserve Board raised the rediscount rate to 3½ per cent which is the highest rate they have charged in more than 20 years. The new rate is 3 per cent.

How it Works

The Federal Reserve can, thru its control of the rediscount rate and thereby the volume of normal bank lending, create either "tight" money conditions or cheapen money thru lowering the rediscount rate to levels around two per cent. The Federal Reserve also has a further control over volume of credit thru its regulations as to the percentage of bank deposits which it demands that member banks carry with the Federal Reserve as deposit reserves and which reserves are not available for normal commercial loans.

The Federal Reserve has the power, if persistently used, to put pressure against any increase in loanable funds and also shrink that volume. As the loanable volume is reduced, the renewal of old loans and making of new loans, is affected. The borrower finds his interest rate has been increased and as pressure gets heavier, he finds he is unable to get the usual renewal of say a 90 day loan.

This sort of pressure, in its action, is much like the effect of a stone cast into water with circles widening to cover a greater area. First pinched are the raw material suppliers and each segment to the ultimate consumer. Each tightens his own allowances of credit and cuts his inventory. Normal inventories also are usually kept to a specific ratio to sales and as sales decline, the ratio to inventory increases. All this causes a slow down in business activity with unemployment to at least some degree.

Operation Success but—

The federal Reserve found that altho it was succeeding in control of credit, it was not succeeding in its effort to stop constant increase in cost of living and cheapening of the dollar. It has become evident that in order to stop the inflationary process, it would also have to create a condition wherein labor costs could be held in line by unemployment of greater or lesser degree. This is politically impossible.

In addition, many state and municipal bond issues simply were not being sold and necessary increase in the interest rates to sell them, created a heavy burden on the state and municipal borrowers. The government itself inherited an unhealthy condition in the government debt with too great a proportion in short and intermediate maturities. The government now has some $10 billion of maturities to meet and any substantial increase in interest rates, would be a heavy load for the budget. Under "tight money" a substantial increase in interest rates would be needed to sell the bonds.

Read Acts 1:8.

Ye shall receive power.....ye shall be witnesses unto me. Acts 1:8.

It has been said that if one places a goose on the floor and draws a chalk circle around it, not even food can cause the goose to cross the line.

Because of the chalk mark of fear, many Christians will not witness for Christ. They are silent when an unclean story is told, fear to speak to a non-Christian. They are moral cowards.

During the war, an English battalion had a popular chaplain. He thought it wise to pretend he did not hear what was being said at times.

One day he was replaced. One night the new chaplain was at a dinner in the officers' mess. The colonel expressed himself, as usual, in colorful language. The new chaplain was soon on his feet. (Pardon me, sir, but you would expect a man to do his duty. It is my duty to tell you that your language is an offense both to God and man.)

There was an awful silence. Then the colonel spoke. "The man's right."

The morale of a community can be changed, when even one person has courage to witness for Christ.

PRAYER

Help us, O Lord, to be willing to receive the power of the Holy Spirit in order to witness for Thee. We pray in the name of Jesus, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven, Amen."

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

God will give us courage if we ask Him.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

Man's God-given ability to resist sin, disease, and all discord will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday, November 24, in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul and Body."

Matthew's account of Christ Jesus' healing of the centurion's servant who was "sick of the palsy" (8:5-10, 13) will be included in the Scriptural readings from the King James Version of the Bible.

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (393:12): "Rise in the strength of Spirit to resist all that is unlike good. God has made man capable of this, and nothing can vitiate the ability and power divinely bestowed on man."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (86:4): Rejoice the soul of thy servant: for unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul."

Presbyterian Sunday School to Open Nov. 24

Sunday church school will be held for the first time in the Presbyterian church at Tinley Park, Sunday Nov. 24, at 9:30 a. m. at the Presbyterian Manse, 16621 Gaynelle rd., in the Kimberly Heights subdivision. Thirty eight children registered last Sunday for the church school.

A capacity crowd attended the first church services last Sunday. Children attended the service with their parents to hear a junior sermon.

The physical arrangements of the sanctuary were provided by individuals of the group. Owen Doyle built and donated the pulpit and the cross on the worship center. Candles were provided by Mr. and Mrs. D. Titus and flowers by C. J. Olander.

The group will hold another organizational meeting tonight, Nov. 21 at 7:30 o'clock in the Presbyterian Manse. All interested families are invited and may ask questions pertaining to the chartering and financing of this new work.

Thanksgiving services will be held during the morning worship services this Sunday. Special arrangements have been made to emphasize the occasion.

And why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?—(St. Luke 6:46.)

The Lord Jesus Christ, our blessed Savior and Redeemer, expects us to do our part—to read and seek to understand His teachings in the Bible, to have faith and trust in Him, to love and obey Him—"for there's no other way."

Mrs. Cohan of Orland Park had a koffee-klotch Nov. 12 for PTA members who worked with her at the Orland Park school's book-fair. The girls from Laguna Woods who were able to attend were: Mrs. Jack Nelson, Mrs. George Brown, Mrs. Ruth Hegyi, Mrs. Robert Anderson and Mrs. K. Case from 80th ave.

Mrs. Aiello entertained with a coffee Thursday morning to introduce her mother, who is visiting her from Roswell, New Mexico.

Perhaps you can solve the mystery of the (2 yr. old) door mats that vanished from the Anderson's breezeways last Friday evening. We know they were at the door when Andy came home from work, however, after dinner they disappeared. The wind or a dog may have carried them off, so if anyone should find them dumped in their yard, "we didn't do it!" Out of curiosity we would like to know, "Where did they go?"

Mr. and Mrs. William Garvin are now residents of 139th st., or Roswell road, as it is sometimes called. The Garvin family moved in over the week-end. There is only one vacant lot on 139th between 80th and Selva Lane, it didn't take long for the new homes to go up and their owners move in. The lot on the corner belong to Mr. and Mrs. Haftner. The homes following those belonging to Mr. and Mrs. William Gavin, the William Donohues, Art Aiello's, Al Karre and Robert Zadesky.

electric way

An electric dryer does all this for just 6¢: 3 big bath towels, 6 hand towels, 2 sheets, 2 pairs shorts, 2 T-shirts, 5 pairs of socks, 3 pillowcases, 2 men's shirts. This average 8-lb. load will take only 25 to 30 minutes.

and electric dryers are completely automatic

ELECTRIC DRYERS

than any other kind

Just 6¢ to dry an 8-lb. load of clothes the electric way. And the electric way is the completely automatic way. No igniting devices to get out of order.

Clothes dried in an electric dryer have the good fresh smell of all outdoors, too. Electric heat is radiant heat... like the sun. Clean and dry... with no combustion odors to mix with the clothes.

Electric dryers are fast. You can dry a whole load of cottons in just 25 to 30 minutes. And all the "no-vent" dryers are electric. Your laundry stays clean, dry and comfortable, makes venting unnecessary.

You'll be amazed when your electric appliance dealer tells you how little it costs to own an electric dryer. Why not see about it soon?

Dedicate New Eye Clinic

A new eye clinic, modern and functional in design, was dedicated last Friday, Nov. 15 at Presbyterian-St. Luke's hospital.

One of the few that serves both clinic and private patients, this new eye clinic is equipped to handle any type of eye problem, including cases requiring cornea transplantation and cases requiring treatment of retinal detachment. In addition, the clinic offers improved potentialities for medical education and clinical research.

Six rooms—each equally accessible to a central desk unit—include: two general examining rooms primarily for private patients; a minor surgery room; a glaucoma room for performing the latest test in diagnosis and management of glaucoma—Tonography; a visual field testing room; and a general examining room (which can handle six at one time) for clinic patients with four examination lanes and a niche to treat muscle problems in children's eyes.

Blind Service Association, Inc. of Chicago has helped to establish this new eye clinic thru its major contribution to renovation, equipment and furnishings, and thru its continuing generous support since 1943.

Organized in 1924 as a non-sectarian, not-for-profit organization, Blind Service Association, Inc., is financed by private and public contributions and operated primarily by volunteer workers. It was established to meet the economic, educational and social needs of the blind and partially blind, regardless of race, color, or creed.

With winter not far away, now is a good time to think about straw is the best choice. It is usually available, gives good protection, is easy to spread and is usually free of weed seeds.

Shavings are satisfactory but are usually hard to get, and it takes a lot to cover the plants.

Leaves make a good mulch, but they often blow too much. Sawdust is not recommended because it packs too much and takes up moisture.

Whatever mulch you use, put it on after several heavy frosts but before the temperature drops below 20 degrees. Leave on until the new spring growth tends to show a yellow instead of green color. Then thin it with a rake just enough to let the plants come through. Rake the rest into the middle of the rows. It will help to keep the berries clean.

Trees, shrubs and roses may need pruning for a number of reasons, points out H. R. Kemmerer, University of Illinois landscape gardening specialist.

It may be necessary to remove dead, diseased or injured wood; to rejuvenate the plant tissues and control flower and fruit production; to remove branches that overlap each other; or to remove branches after transplanting to make up for loss of roots.

Kemmerer has written a new circular on pruning, just published by the University of Illinois College of Agriculture. This 15-page illustrated publication tells how to prune large trees, small flowering trees, flowering crabapples, shrubs, hedges and different types of roses.

The annual meeting of the Illinois State Vegetable Growers' Association was held at Hotel Jefferson, Peoria, Nov. 19 and 20. Subjects dealt with were:

Tuesday: How Fungicides Fit into Vegetable Production, Production of Tomatoes for the Fresh Market.

Wednesday: The Vegetable Picture in 1958, Tour of Northern U.S.D.A. Utilization Research Laboratory, 1815 West University, Peoria.

Important changes have occurred in farming practices during the past seven years. Live-stock farmers have been shifting more of their good level land to high-profit crops, mainly corn and some soybeans. They have dropped small grain acreage where possible and cut legume and grass acreage where their livestock program would permit.

Grain farmers stepped up corn acreage sharply from 1950 to 1952 and then dropped back so that by 1956 they had planted about five percent more acres than in 1950. Soybean acreage has gone up steadily. Rotations have shifted to a higher proportion of land in corn and soybeans.

Time spent by labor and machinery to produce corn, soybeans and oats has dropped by more than one-third, while capital needs have nearly doubled. Total production costs of these crops have jumped 20 percent, while the prices received for them by farmers have dropped from five to ten percent.

Similar changes in cropping systems will continue. As competition between farming regions becomes keener, farmers tend to shift to those crops for which their farms are best suited.

The Bremen Beat

By EDWIN BRUELL

Members of the Science club at Bremen Community high school are working on projects for the year with a view to exhibiting at various science fair programs.

The Bremen Science Fair will be held Friday, March 7, and the club hopes to attend the fair of the Illinois Junior Academy of Scientists at Naperville, Illinois, in April.

The group will check wraps at basketball games this year, and the plan has been suggested of taking proceeds and donating something of scientific value to the school.

A pow-wow dance is scheduled for Saturday, February 22. All groups recently held a picnic at Tinley Creek Woods.

The Science club is divided into four sections: Mathematics club with Mrs. Hilda Hemphill as sponsor; Chemistry-Photography with Mrs. Mary Durkee as sponsor; Biology-Model Planes with Bradley Ewart as sponsor; and Radio-Electronics with John Laverty, general faculty adviser of the Science Club, as sponsor.

Sections which have elected officers are the following: MATH-EMATISC club, Jack Heil, president; George Rieke, vice president; Stanley Gresens, secretary and Walter Hedlund, treasurer; CHEMISTRY - PHOTOGRAPHY, Barry Haber, president, and John Cassaway, secretary.

Store Pledges Aid In Muscular Dystrophy Drive

The National Tea store at 170-10 Oak Park ave., Tinley Park, will participate in a special supermarket campaign for the March for Muscular Dystrophy fund drive according to Alvin Miller, store manager.

The Supermarket Division, under the direction of Peter Volid, national chairman and president of King Korn Stamp Co. of Chicago, has a fund goal of $2million to be raised throughout the country.

Mr. Miller explained it is especially appropriate the Supermarket Division be emphasized since wives and mothers, natural shoppers for the family, can be made aware of symptoms and the prognosis of muscular dystrophy, thru contact with their shopping center.

"In duties as their children's nurse, educator and protector, the mother must be apprised of this disease", Miller said.

Specially designed canisters in the shape of an order-separator will be placed on check-out counters of the store to encourage customer contributions. Six foot window banners of comedian Jerry Lewis, national chairman, Muscular Dystrophy Association of America, Inc., will be displayed to focus attention on the drive.

The two week food industry drive will begin Nov. 25. Proceeds will be used for research on the dread disease which strikes the voluntary muscles of the body, weakening them and reducing healthy tissue into fat.

The cause and cure of muscular dystrophy, a disease which has 200,000 victims in the United States including 245 in the Chicago area, is unknown. Two-thirds of the victims are children, who will certainly die unless a cure or method of control is found, Mr. Miller added.

Dismisses Case When Dog Owner Agrees To Impounding Pet

The case against Clarence Fulton, of 6653 W. 173rd place, Tinley Park, was dismissed by Joseph Lucas, justice of the peace on Nov. 8, when Fulton agreed to have his dog impounded.

He was on $25 bond for refusing to turn over the dog to police after it bit 14 year old Terry Devlin on the leg, as he rode past the Fulton home on

Parents Visit Orchard Hill

With the observance of education week thruout the nation, Orchard Hill Farm kindergarten near Tinley Park opened its doors to parents of children enrolled in the school to visit and observe a "regular day". A trip to the newly built playroom in the barn, with its picture view window overlooking the pasture started the day for the parents of the yellow feather group, and a world of fantasy and imagination opened the day for those enjoying a fanciful tale spun by Mrs. Luger in the story room.

Each class group gave a "play let" written by Mrs. Luger, performed to the musical accompaniment of Mrs. Mager in the music room. The gold feathers from Hazelcrest gave a puppet show "The Little Pumpkin Who Was Too Late for Halloween". Red feathers from Pottowatome Hills performed in "Thanksgiving at Orchard Hill"; the blue feathers from Markham and Midlothian gave "Gobbly Gook"; green feathers from Tinley Park and Oak Forest, were cast in "The First Thanksgiving," while the yellow feathers who are the four year olds gave a musical dance story, "The Three Little Turkeys."

Thanksgiving, and the traditional practice of the festival of ingathering has given the children an opportunity to learn appropriate songs and graces in the music room and simple crafts have stemmed from the study of fields and woods as nature prepares for the long winter ahead.

The Association of American Railroads research center is located on the Illinois Institute of Technology campus in Chicago.

ELIZABETH VISITS A SUPERMART

Queen Elizabeth II's visit to the United States was, naturally, a split-second affair, with every activity, small or large, meticulously planned long in advance by officials of the two nations concerned.

There was, however, an exception to this rule, and an unusual and interesting one. While driving to a football game, the Queen passed a modern supermarket and said that she would like to see it. The necessary arrangements were made. On the return drive the Queen's entourage stopped, while she visited the market, to the obvious amazement of personnel and customers. The Queen was obviously impressed and pleased with what she was shown.

Elizabeth reigns in England, and the Commonwealth over which she presides, as a symbol of tradition and unity is highly advanced in the arts of material existence. Even so, it is far behind us, for the most part, in retailing and in everything to do with retailing—efficiency, economy, standards of service, abundance of goods, and so on. And most of the other countries of the world are much farther behind still. One of the great economic achievements of this century in this nation has been the development of a mass-distribution system to complement and to act as a full partner to our system of mass-production.

The supermarket the Queen saw deals primarily in foods. But what is true of it is true of retailing in all its manifold branches—variety goods, clothing, furnishings, appliances, whatever. American retailing knows no equal in the world—and it is also the most intensely competitive. That last fact explains in large measure why it is the best.

Nuclear energy rapidly is becoming America's biggest industry. From a $6,000 government appropriation in 1940, it has become a $12 billion giant.
